Effective Communication

Communication is the process of sharing information, thoughts and feelings between people through speaking, writing or body language. Effective communication extends the concept to require that transmitted content is received and understood by someone in the way it was intended. The goals of effective communication include creating a common perception, changing behaviors and acquiring information.

Example YES or NO

After a thorough lesson, the kindergarten teacher was showing her class a page from a book which had several national flags on it. She pointed to the American flag and asked, "What flag is this?"
A little girl replied. "That's our country's flag."
"Very good," the teacher said. "And what is the name of our country?"
"Tis of thee," the little girl said.
